Further information <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The maturity date is agreed at the start of your plan. The minimum term is 5 years and the maximum is 20 years, with a maximum age at maturity of 74 years. • The plan is a non-qualifying policy, which means higher and additional tax payers will have a tax liability on the gains made from this investment. • LIC UK is not entitled to unilaterally terminate this product unless you have misrepresented the facts provided to us.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 20 years.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 3 out of 7, which is a medium-low risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium-low level, and poor market conditions could impact the capacity of LIC UK to pay you. You are guaranteed to be provided your agreed cash sum plus bonuses to date at the maturity date of your plan or when you die. If LIC UK is not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

Performance Scenarios

This table shows the money you could get back over the next 20 years, under different scenarios, assuming that you invest £10,000. The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the scenarios of other products. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the product. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay you. The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, and includes the LIC distribution costs. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back. Do not forget that inflation would reduce what you could buy in the future with the amounts shown.

What happens if LIC UK is unable to pay out?

If we are unable to pay you what you are owed under the policy terms, then you may be able to reclaim some of your investment through the Financial Services Compensation scheme. The details are available at <https://www.fscs.org.uk/what-we-cover/>. There are no limitations or conditions attached to this scheme.

What are the costs?

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the investment return you might get. The total costs take into account one-off, ongoing and incidental costs.

The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself, for three different holding periods under the moderate scenario. The figures assume you invest £10,000. The figures are estimates and may change in the future.

Costs over time

The person selling you or advising you about this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs, and show you the impact that all costs will have on your investment over time.

How long should I hold it and can I take money out early?

Recommended holding period: 20 years

The recommended holding period has been selected to enable investors to benefit from long term growth whilst avoiding short term volatility.

You can cash in your plan whenever you like, but if you cash in early the amount you receive is not guaranteed and may be less than you have contributed.
